

NOW EXHIBITING: HISPACK 2012 IN BARCELONA!

Datalogic Automation will be present at the upcoming HISPACK 2012 – that will be held in Barcelona from May 15th to 18th – this international exhibition displays a complete range of POS products, design solutions, new materials and machinery for food, pharmaceutical and cosmetics manufactures.

You are welcome to our booth to discover Datalogic Automation innovative Sensors, Identification and Vision products and solutions for packaging and quality inspection applications.

In particular we will show the new S8 Series photoelectric sensors improved with a stainless steel version that is the right solution for Food&Pharma sectors, the latest generation of Matrix™ imagers representing the top products for Identification scopes, and the whole DataVS2 Series, including the new Professional version and the VSM Monitoring device, constituting the one-for-all solution for any quality control.

Visit Datalogic Automation at Hall P3 - Booth F680

Visit the exhibition website