3.2 Exceptions to the prohibition on trading

Pursuant to and for the purposes of Art. 19 of the MAR and Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) of 17 December 2015, a Relevant Subject has the right to trade during a Black-Out Period provided that:

A. the Relevant Subject is able to demonstrate that the specific transaction cannot be carried out at another time if not during the Black-Out Period Black-Out Period;

B. it was previously authorised by the Company to do so based on a reasoned written request, submitted - through the General Counsel Office/Corporate Governance Section - to the attention of the CEO of the Company, in which (i) the transaction concerned is described; (ii) the evidence of the arguments in support of the previously mentioned point A. is given; (iii) the disclosure of the reason why the sale is the only reasonable way to obtain the necessary financing, in the only case in which the immediate sale of own shares is required under exceptional conditions laid down below.

During a Black-Out Period, the Company may authorise a Relevant Subject:

- the immediate sale of own shares - on their own account or on behalf of third parties - in case of exceptional conditions (to be considered on a case-by-case basis) and, therefore, in the presence of circumstances arising from extremely urgent, unforeseen and compelling situations that are not attributable to the Relevant Subject and beyond their control.

In considering the exceptional nature of the conditions, the Company assesses, among other indicators, whether and to what extent the Relevant Subject:

- at the time of submission of the request, must fulfil a legally enforceable financial obligation or satisfy a claim;

- must comply or is in a situation that has arisen before the beginning of the Black-Out Period requiring the payment of an amount to a third party, including tax obligations, and such Relevant Subject cannot reasonably fulfil a financial obligation or satisfy a claim if they do not sell the shares immediately;

   i. the plan for employees and its conditions have been approved in advance by the Company in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the plan specify the time for the assignment or grant and the number of the financial instruments conferred or granted, or the basis for the calculation of this amount, provided that discretionary powers cannot be exercised;
   ii. the Relevant Subject has no power of discretion with respect to the acceptance of the financial instruments conferred or granted;

b) the Relevant Subject had been assigned or granted financial instruments as part of a plan for employees that is implemented during the Black-Out Period, provided that a method previously scheduled and organised with regard to the conditions is applied, the periodicity and time required, as long as they indicate the group of authorised persons whose financial instruments are granted and the amount of financial instruments to be attributed and provided that the assigning or the granting of financial instruments takes place within a framework defined in which such assigning or granting cannot be influenced by any Inside Information;

c) the Relevant Subject shall exercise options or warrants or conversion rights of convertible bonds that were assigned as part of a plan for the employees, if the expiry date of such options, warrants or convertible bonds is included in the Black-Out Period, and sells the shares acquired as a result of the exercise of such options, warrants or conversion rights, provided that all the following conditions are met:
   i. the Relevant Subject shall notify the Company of their decision to exercise the options, warrants or conversion rights at least four months before the expiry date;
   ii. the decision of the Relevant Subject is irrevocable;
   iii. the Relevant Subject has been previously authorized by the Company;

d) the Relevant Subject acquires financial instruments of the Company under a savings plan for employees, provided that all the following conditions are met:
   i. the Relevant Subject joined the plan before the Black-Out Period, except in cases where they cannot join at another time because of the date of commencement of the employment relationship;
   ii. the Relevant Subject does not change the terms of their participation in the plan or revoke such participation throughout the Black-Out Period;
   iii. the purchase transactions are clearly organised on the basis of the terms of the plan and the Relevant Subject does not have the right or legal possibility to modify them during the Black-Out Period, or such transactions are planned within the plan in such a way that they take place on a pre-established date included in the Black-Out Period;

e) the Relevant Subject transfers or receives, directly or indirectly, financial instruments, provided they are transferred from one account to another of that Relevant Subject and that the transfer does not involve changes in their price;

f) the Relevant Subject acquires a guarantee or rights to shares of the Company and the end date of this acquisition is included in the Black-Out Period, in accordance with the Company's Articles of Association or by law, provided that the Relevant Subject proves to the Company why the acquisition did not take place at another time and the issuer accepts the explanation provided.
